

WHY HAS THE HISTORY OF GIANTS BEEN BACK DATED TO BIBLICAL TIMES AND HUSHED UP - WHO IS DOING IT AND WHY

The Giants They Erased From History — Guardians of Tartaria

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=n2btFe6iStE>

1883: The Year They Found Tartaria's Giants And Erased Them

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-TWjXZZBcW0>

"Tartarus is mentioned only once in the Bible, in 2 Peter 2:4, where it describes God casting sinning angels into a gloomy abyss, bound in chains of darkness for judgment. While often translated as "hell," it refers specifically to a subterranean prison for fallen angels, distinct from the final destination of human souls, and is depicted as a place of restraint before the final judgment, not eternal torment for people. "

IF PEOPLE ONLY KNEW WHAT HAS BEEN GOING ON UNDER GROUND AND UNDER WATER THEY WOULD BE SHOCKED

The Bible and ancient tribes spoke about giants on a regular bases but around 1920 the subject was HUSHED UP. The Smithsonian went dark about all the giants bones sent to them and mankind forgot about them. The Bible tells us that these giants will be returning at the End of the Ages period we are living in today.

Let's look at the more recent giant pictures that were not Copied, Chopped or Pasted together, or where a picture of a giant could be added or removed from a negative or picture. These giants in this video have an association with the Tuatha De Danaan in the Bible that were one of the hybrid bloodlines that came from the line of Cain. That line migrated to the British Isles.

From around 1800 - 1920 these giant men and woman were the leaders of business, industry and always dressed as the UPPER CLASS of society. Then it is if they were FASED OUT or for some reason and disappeared from our current history records.

They were between 9 - 18 feet tall

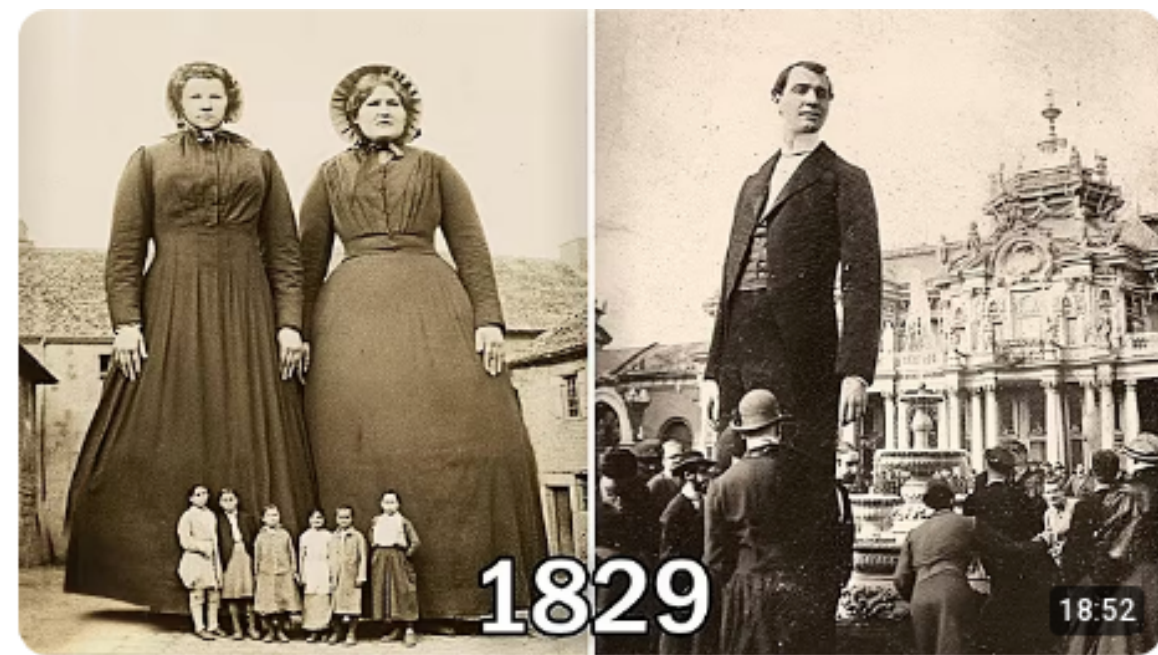

Woman of Means

THERE WERE NEWSPAPERS ARTICLES AROUND THE WORLD THAT SPOKE ABOUT THEM

Yet most of us never heard of them nor are their pictures of them common enough that everyone knows about them.

Where did they go. I don't remember going to school with anyone close to that tall or learning about them

Prehistoric Giants' Skeletons Unearthed

Workmen Find Many Who Were Evidently Left on a Battlefield of Centuries Ago.

Winnsboro, La., Dec. 16—Skeletons of a race of giants who averaged 12 feet in height, were found today by workmen engaged upon a drainage project near Crowville, near here. There are several scores at least of skeletons and they lie in various positions. It is believed they were killed in a prehistoric fight and that the bodies lay where they fell, covered with alluvial deposits.

A GIANT SKELETON EIGHTEEN FEET TALL

AUSTIN, Tex., June 14.—"If the report that the fossilized skeleton of a giant eighteen feet tall has been found near Seymour, Tex., is true, it is the most important ethnological discovery ever made in the world," remarked Dr. J. E. Pearce, professor of anthropology of the University of Texas. "It would break all previous records of giants by nearly ten feet, as the tallest man known to anthropological research was only eight feet inches in height."

The skeleton is in possession of W.

BIGGEST GIANT EVER KNOWN.

Nine Feet High and Probably a Prehistoric California Indian.

MEASUREMENT WELL AUTHENTICATED

Other Big Men and Women of Fact and Fable Who Are Famous Types of Gigantism.

THE corpse of the biggest man that ever lived has been dug up near San Diego, Cal. At all events, there is no satisfactory record in ancient or modern history of any human being nearly so tall. The mummy—found in the condition of a person who must have been about nine feet high in life.
This takes allowance for the shrinkage, which may be pretty closely calculated.
As to accuracy in the estimate there can be no question, as the cadaver has been carefully inspected and measured by Prof. Thomas Wilson, Curator of the Department of Paleontology in the Smithsonian Institution, and by other anthropologists. The tape-line even now registers the length from head to top of head at eight feet four inches.

The mummy is that of an Indian, and is almost certainly prehistoric, though its age cannot be determined with any sort of accuracy. Historical records of the part of California where it was found go back for at least 126 years, and they make no mention of any man of gigantic stature. How much either the body may be man, or left open to conjecture, its preservation is no matter for surprise. In that arid region the atmospheric conditions are such that a corpse buried in the dry season might very well become perfectly desiccated before the arrival of the rains, and thus be rendered permanently proof against decay.

The body was found in a cave by a party of prospectors. Over the head are the remains of a leather hood. The man was well advanced in years.
It has been stated that this man must have surpassed in height any giant of whom there is historical record. This is undoubtedly true so far as the last two centuries are concerned, and accounts of older dates are not well authenticated. Indeed, they grow more and more apocryphal as distance of time increases.

An Arabian giant mentioned by Teynard was four and a half inches above eight feet in height. The tallest man of whom there is any authentic record was Winklermayr, who was measured by Duchon, and found to be exactly eight and a half feet high. The largest woman that ever lived was Marianna Tribble, a German, who was a wonder of the last century. But more than four properly rounded for eight-footers have dwelt on the earth in modern times.

The exhibited giant is always more or less of a riddle, a number of inches being added to the stature by the shrinkage. P. T. Barnum in his memoirs says that he never could find a human being that would come up to the eight-foot mark. Chang, the Chinese giant, was advertised as eight feet high. The fact is that he was only about six inches over seven feet. His apparent height was increased by a flowing robe and black-soled shoes. Yet Chang was probably the tallest man ever on exhibition in this country. Seven feet is a good height for an ordinary show giant.
Great stature under ordinary circumstances may be and commonly is inherited. The dwellers of Japan covered and considered above the every-day people at their own pace. Porting a case for themselves, they have been used for stature of centuries.

The soldiers of King Frederick Wilhelm's famous regiment of giants at Poin-tain married the women of that regim-

MUMMY OF NINE FOOT GIANT INDIAN, FOUND IN CALIFORNIA.

berhood, and, as a consequence, there are a great many very tall people in the vicinity of Pointrain. In 1847, King Frederick searched the whole of Europe for his big soldiers. They were his sons, but it is probable that they would not have proved very useful in war the best soldier for fighting, or for any other purpose, is of moderate size. Frederick reviewed every day his cherished regiment, which numbered 300 men. In the front rank was no man less in stature than seven feet. In 1775 the Duke of Brunswick-Dassau, and his grandfather in his company was, as the light, measured eight feet and six inches.
In the Harrow exhibition four giants in New York, all of them alleged to be over eight feet. One of these was Andr-Swee, who probably was the longest woman of the century. Joseph Smith, a French giant, exhibited in 1811, measured six and a half inches over seven feet. Possibly with this exception the tallest man in France in 1800 was Charles d'Indreville, who was seven feet and a half high and about in proportion.
William Sharpe, known as the West Hampshire Giant, died of consumption in 1864. He is said to have measured seven feet and a half, of nearly equal height was the Duke of Devonshire, who was the attention of the Prince of Wales and was made a lodge porter at Orléans House. He kept in dress himself in female clothing and exhibited himself at a ball. He was challenged to fight by two soldiers, one of them he wound around his head by an arm, and the other ran away. At Mass. Fair-bank's store was exhibited a figure of a Dassau named Louis, eight feet and five inches high. He was a drum-major in the Imperial Guard in 1800 and William Braden, of Yorkshire, who died in 1800, was eight feet high. A chief of one of his bands is in possession of the Royal College of Surgeons.

In 1800 the emperor of an alleged Indian chieftain was dug up near Concord in a great bog. The skeleton measured two and a half inches over eight feet. Edward Hamard, a pioneer latter of Tazewell, died in 1780. His height was seven feet and four inches.

A stature nearly sixteen inches greater than this was claimed for Patrick Caster, alias O'Brien, who was born in 1796 at Kilmale, Ireland. His actual height was about seven feet and ten inches.
He was a soldier, and displayed the typical physical abnormalities of giant-ism. When he died he directed that his grave should be made secure with iron bars and brickwork to prevent soldiers from stealing his body.

Coster took the name of O'Brien from another Irish clan of that name, who was born about that date. He was said to be eight feet and four inches high, but in truth he was a crime-man, than ten inches over seven feet. His skeleton is now stored by the Royal College of Surgeons. The famous Dr. William Hunter gave $1,000 for his corpse. In 1712 there was at Leamington, in Holland, a fisherman named Gerrit van der Meer, who was eight feet tall and weighed 300 pounds.
The dubious character of giant stories is generally illustrated by certain tales of Guy, Earl of Warwick, exhibited to this day at Warwick Castle. This remarkable phenomenon is alleged to have been built in truly heroic mould. The relics comprise his porridgepot, which holds 100 gallons; his coat of arms, six feet long; his breakfast, sword and other articles. The porridgepot is in truth a garbage can, and the sword a kitchen knife. The fork is not a fork at all, but a military weapon. The armor is of common iron, and the sword is a sword made for a horse. With the sword the noble Earl is said to have vanquished a certain rapacious cow six yards long and with fiery eyes. A rib bone of the monster is shown to prove the tale; but it is not the rib of a cow at all. It is the rib of an extinct species of buffalo, known as the bison.

The Old Testament is full of stories of giants. Goliath of Gath, champion of the Philistines, is stated to have been six cubits and a span high, or nine feet and nine inches. A French Jesuit has found that Adam was 10 feet high and 100 lbs. Noah was 12 feet tall, Abraham 10 feet and Moses 12 feet.

What the author of this video saying is how odd it is that these giant people appeared on the scene between 1800 - 1920 and then seemed to be faded out when data about Tartarus was removed from history and that these giants were merchants of means. They seem to be the overseers of the projects people were working on.. Their existence was part of the everyday world and then they disappeared off the every day records. The Smithsonian while claiming they had no giant bones were burying them in the oceans so they would not be dug up or found anymore.

There are stories of Olaf Jansen who traveled underground in the North Pole region only to discover the giants related to the ancient Israelites.

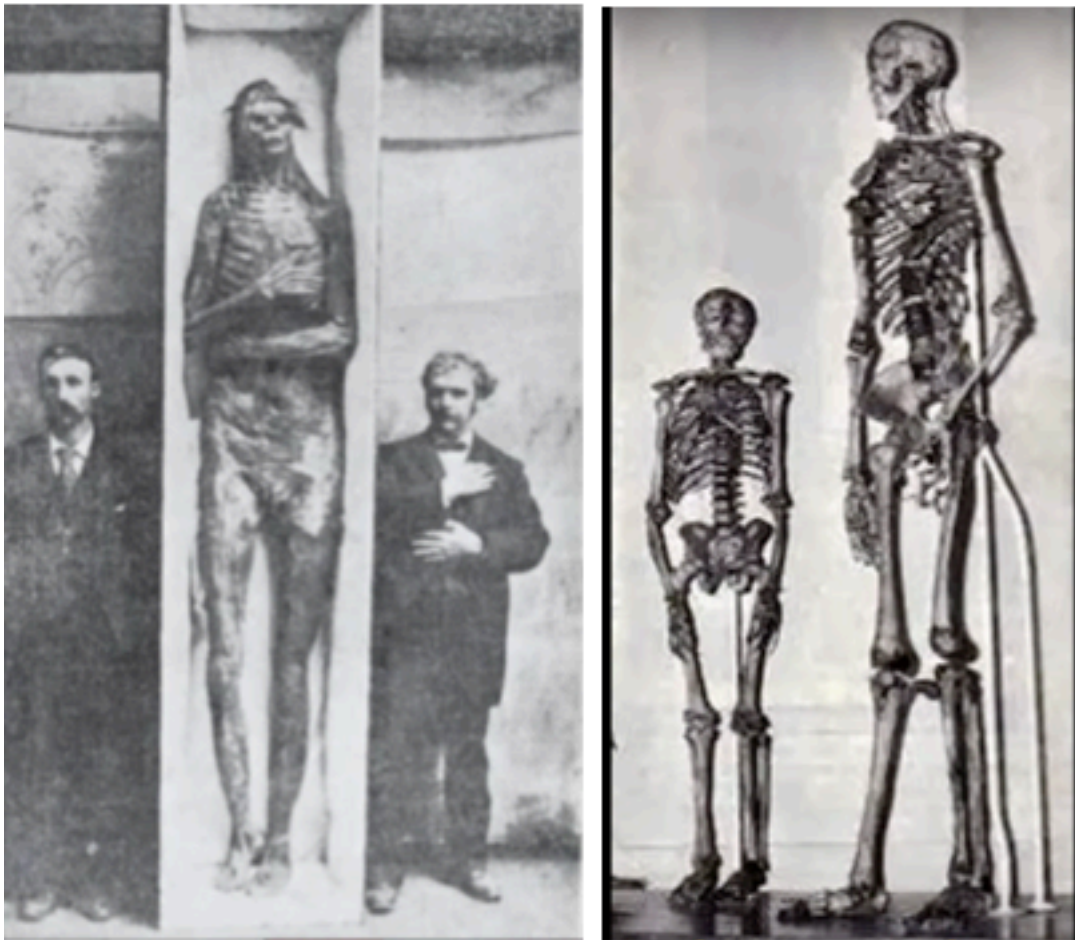

"The Smoky God, or A Voyage Journey to the Inner World (1908) by Willis George Emerson. The narrator, Olaf Jansen, voyages through a polar opening in 1829 and spends 2 years in a strange underground world, believed to be the original Garden of Eden. This inner Earth is lit by its own sun, and here underground civilization has diverged from the ways of the surface. Here are giants, monsters, omnipotent High Priests, and lost races that speak Sanskrit—a world of wonders, which Olaf will be lucky to survive. Picture of the book cover. "

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/FantasyFaction/posts/3505211166454719/>

Egypt

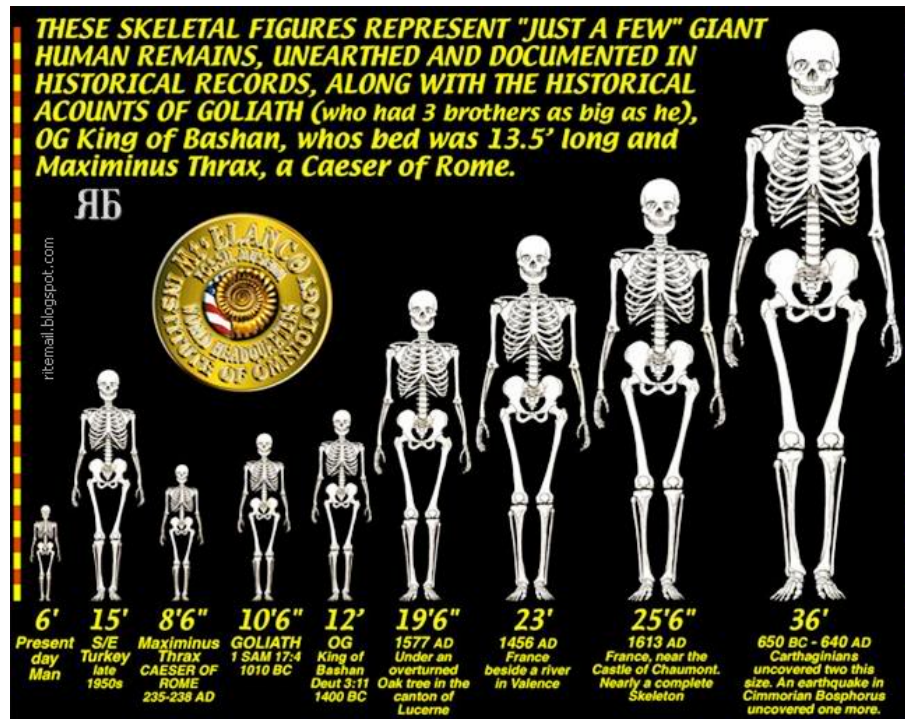

North America

Indian Giants

Biblical Giants

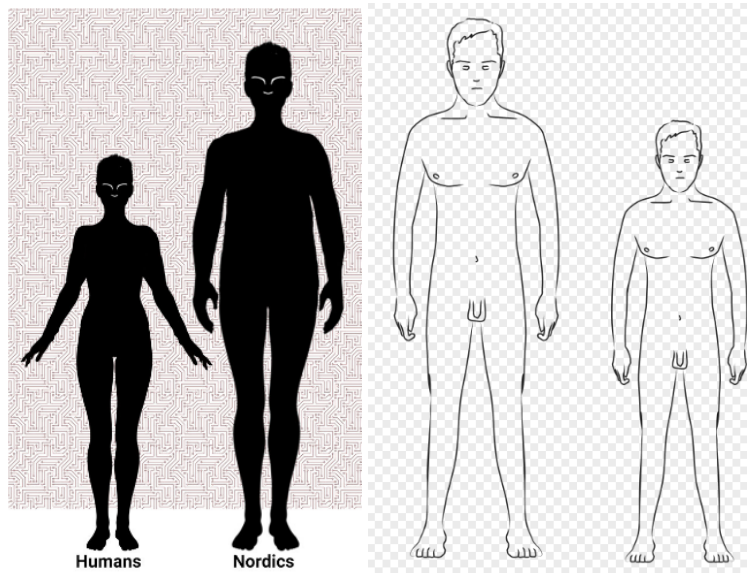

Afghan Giant Capture

Now what few are left we think of them as basketball players or simply as really tall guys and never ask questions like HOW DID THEY GET TO BE SO TALL. If it isn't gigantism then what is it that crates these giant people? Where did their giant DNA come from? Yet when you go back in history it was the gods (aliens) who created them. The DNA from aliens is the culprit. It happened when aliens bred their DNA with human DNA.

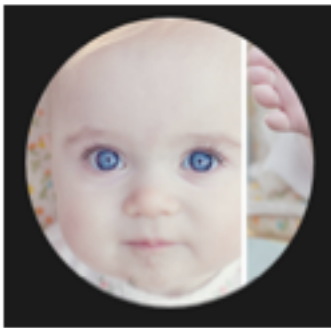

Nordic aliens are known to be taller than human beings. Above are examples of an 8ft tall alien next to a 6ft tall man or woman.

Something to think about guys!

ANGELICA GOODSON-LORD
FALL OF 2023

AGL'S WRITERS NEST
ANGELICA GOODSON LORD
angellicagoodsonlordbooks@gmail.com

Wednesday, January 14, 26

